

ENGINEERING AND SECURITY IN SERVICE OF YOUR PRESTIGE PROJECTS

Marc MORISSET has been leading construction projects of all types in France and internationally for more than 40 years.

In 1997, he founded the engineering company ACTEBA to bring together and organize all the expertise required to deliver increasingly complex projects.

Sani MOUHAMADOU is a senior advisor in defense and international security strategy. He leads high-stakes sensitive operations for government stakeholders and private organizations.

Recognized for his expertise in site and personnel security, he provides strategic consulting in the design of integrated logistics systems applied to construction projects.

« Architecture is an expression of values.
